Diversity Employment & Recruitment Sources Guide

NOTES FOR USERS OF DOE'S RECRUITING SOURCES HANDBOOK

1. The handbook is organized as follows:

   By major entities (as Minority Organizations, Media, etc.)

   Then by

   Ethnic group (as Black, Asian, etc.)

   Then universities are grouped by

   Regions

2. Web sites have been included wherever available and are of crucial importance for those seeking information re a particular entity. We recommend highly, that unless you have personal knowledge, you visit the web site first.

3. Many organizations have a headquarters or a main campus with several or dozens of other locations, sometimes in other states or localities. Generally the handbook lists this main headquarters/campus where their web site contains sufficient information on their subordinate units or other campuses. For example, we list the NAACP Hdqs., not all the state offices; and the main campus of City College of Chicago, not all 12 campuses. Please use the web sites to explore additional locations and entities in your recruiting and college relations endeavors.

4. Re colleges & universities. Where available, telephone & fax numbers are for the Student Services Career Offices where employers make recruitment contacts.

5. Regions. In the hope of fostering collaborative recruiting efforts within the DOE family, we have arranged the universities into the 10 federal regions. Contacts with sources within the region by one DOE organization should be prepared to provide information on other DOE interests. If there is agreement, schedules and contacts could be coordinated both to reduce multiple DOE contacts with the same source and to reduce recruiting costs. Please provide the Office of Corporate HR Initiatives with your efforts and issues re this activity.

6. DISCLAIMER. The Department of Energy does not endorse the activities of organizations listed herein by their inclusion in the handbook.
